KAISER METAL PRODUCTS ANNOUNCES PROCUREMENT OF 2ND JET AIRCRAFT CONTRACT, REPUBLIC CORPORATION

Complete Fuselage AFT Sections To Be Manufactured and Assembled Here for Republic's F-84 — Will Boost Number of Employees to Possibly 8,500.

Kaiser Metal Products, Inc., today announced the procurement of a second jet aircraft defense contract—the manufacture and assembly of complete fuselage aft sections for Republic Aviation Corporation's F-84 Thunderjet fighter for the U. S. Air Force. Production lines for the Thunderjet have been established at the company's plant here, parallel to sub-assembly and final assembly on wings for the Canberra twin-jet light bomber. A subcontract from Glenn L. Martin Company for the latter work was announced in August.

An estimated 2,000 additional employees will be required at the Bristol plant for work on the Thunderjet, boosting Kaiser Metal Products' proposed defense payroll to approximately 8,500. The defense production will be in addition to the company's normal output of enameled metal products for civilian markets. Plant No. 2 is being rehabilitated at a cost of $1,000,000 to provide a total of 750,000 square feet of floor space for all production.

S. D. Hackley, general manager of Kaiser Metal Products, said that 20 to 25 per cent of the precision machine work for both contracts will be subcontracted by the company to other industries in the area. Republic Aviation currently is producing the F-84G, a refinement of the sturdy F-84E which has been providing vital ground support to United Nations forces in Korea.

The company is also preparing its new swept-wing F-84F for production. The "F", as a fighter, is capable of higher speeds and longer range than its sister-model. As a ground support plane, it is designed to carry more armament than the F-84E.

The F-84E Thunderjet has a top speed of 550 m.p.h.

ASK FIRE POLICE TO BE ON THE ALERT

Must Try and Stop Unauthorized Persons from Doing Damage at Fires

L. ROBERTS SPEAKS

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 24—Firemen and fire policemen, particularly, will have to be on the alert to see that no unauthorized persons do damage at the scene of a fire, said Fire Police Marshal Leonard D. Roberts, speaking at a meeting of the Bucks County Fire Police Association in Parkland, a few evenings ago.

With 26 companies out of 40 in attendance, numbering more than 100 fire policemen, former president Russell Pidcock, of Langhorne, related how firemen got the blame for tossing chairs, tables, mirrors, rugs and other household possessions out of a farm house, doing unnecessary damages totaling hundreds of dollars.

Former President Pidcock, who deplored the fact that there weren't enough fire police to handle the traffic problems caused by thousands of fire-happy spectators, and protect the victim's home, said: "Fire-happy naps got into the house, ripped rugs off the floor, broke beds, threw furniture out the window without any one outside to control them."

MEETING TONIGHT

TULLYTOWN, Sept. 24—A meeting of the Sacred Heart League will be held tonight at eight in Tullytown Fire Co. station.

"I am not here with pleasant taffy and soft words," he declared. "Yours is not a pleasant outlook. These are not easy times in Washington for those who are trying to stand up for principle."

"But it is a glorious joy to know you are standing up for the things which brave men gave their lives to maintain."

"When I read history, I always come back to the conclusion that the big conflict of all generations has been the fight between individual freedom and centralized government."

"We in America are not winning that fight."

"Nothing is more destructive to the principles of free Republican government, such as our constitution undertakes to provide for us, than war. In war there is necessity for a centralization of great, arbitrary authorities."

"Once mankind's rulers taste these powers, they become enamored of them. They are blinded by the love of money and the love of power."

"Here in this country, just as we were beginning to be able to take back some of the special powers we had given to our public officials for the winning of the World War, up rose a new emergency, and unlimited new controls and powers were handed over to the executive branch of our government."

"Mr. King, as your congressman, and you yourselves, and all of us, will have to be on guard as never before."

"An election like yours here may seem dull. You believe you are sure of the outcome. But I always wish, of such an election, that it might be used as a springboard for the 1952 election. I wish it could be used as a dress-rehearsal of the issues which the nation must pass upon next year—the weakness of currency which we call inflation; our foreign policy; the labor question; public housing; and the rest."

"I wish it were possible to use your campaign for the Republican fight in 1952. We need ideas which can sweep the nation. We need to 'merchandise' Republican concepts and 'package' Republican ideas. We need to find some new means of salesmanship to sell our goods."

"What is the most serious worry is the lethargy of the people. The facts are dug out and published about mink coats and deep-freezers and all the other spectacular items of corruption and graft, but thus far the American people have simply shrugged their shoulders."

"Somewhere, somehow, someone is going to find the magic spark which sets ablaze the American people's deep-lying pride in integrity of government, in high standards, in the preservation of both."

THE TREE SURGEON

There died the other day in Asheville, N. D., James A. G. Davey Sr. He was a member of a family notable in tree surgery and was himself one of the nation's foremost authorities on trees.

He was the man who saved the trees of Central Park, New York City, 25 years ago. Their death at the rate of 1,000 a year was popularly attributed to the exhaust gases of automobiles. Mr. Davey proved the cause was the devitalization of their soil and attacks by the European red mite, a microscopic spider. New York appropriated $1,000,000 for rehabilitation work, which Mr. Davey supervised without compensation.

The tree surgeon may be distinguished from the forester, who deals primarily with timberland. But "forester" has become the title of many tree surgeons in public employ. The tree surgeon, or tree expert, is chiefly concerned with shade and ornamental trees.

He must understand the principles of planting, pruning and bracing, the origin and treatment of diseases, the repair of decay. Many things can happen to a tree. It is subject to attack by worms and insects, especially beetles and spiders, by disease and fungus. It is vulnerable to wind and ice. Like human beings, it can suffer from nutritional deficiencies.

The growth of the profession reflects belated public recognition of the aesthetic and practical value of trees, particularly in urban and suburban areas. They take a long time to grow and they need a lot of expensive care, but they're worth it. Towns would be dreary and uncomfortable without them.

GONE, ALSO FORGOTTEN

Except for saddened families and friends, the victims of yesterday's traffic fatalities are soon forgotten. Cars tear along the highways at a speed that makes the legal limit seem safe and slow. Drivers forget that urban and suburban streets are used by pedestrians, too. Stop signs are ignored.

If a driver slows for an intersection, a red light or children at play, he is blown down by impatient horns to the rear. Good manners are parked before leaving home, which is one of the numerous reasons that the fatality figures climb steadily.

It is to such heedless motorists that authorities of Buffalo, N. Y., are about to address themselves. On September 30 Buffalo is to have an Autumnal Memorial Day. It will be dedicated to the 39 children, women and men who have been killed thus far this year on its streets. Police Commissioner Noepfel has appealed for memorial services in churches, schools and public gatherings, and at noon citizens will observe 30 seconds of silence.

No one knows whether Buffalo's traffic experiment will have lasting or lessening effect on the frightful waste of human life. But to Buffalo's credit, it means to try.

On Sunday, the class listened to a very interesting and instructive class sermon delivered by the Rev. J. Riley Berg, D.D., of Salem Reformed Church, Doylestown. The exercises were held in Hibbs' Hall. The commencement exercises will be held on Saturday evening, May 23rd, at 7:45 o'clock, in Hibbs' Hall. Admission 25c. Groom, executors of the estate of the late Anna Brown, 42 acres of ground at Edgely, and has erected a building thereon 50 x 200 feet. The company will manufacture enameled leather and has ample capital to prosecute the enterprise. For a number of years Mr. Yeutter has been experimenting in the process of varnishing leather and effecting a lustrous polish similar to patent leather, and claims to have reached the point where the product is an entire success. Associated with Mr. Yeutter, are Albert Bernard and William G. Grieb, capitalists of Boston and Philadelphia, respectively. The tract purchased embraces all of the Brown estate that is situated on the north side of the railroad. The main building which is about completed, opposite the Headley farm, will be equipped at once and other smaller structures erected. Four thousand dollars were paid for the tract. Bristol now has three leather enameling concerns, the Corona Kid Company being the most extensive one. C. A. Wilson is also conducting an extensive business in the same line.

At the annual meeting of the Bristol Gas Light Company, held last Thursday, an entire new board was chosen, as follows: John L. Kuser, James Buckman, Mahlon R. Margerum, Thomas Scott, R. V. Kuser. Hulmeville Park, which is a delightful spot on the Neshaminy, will be under new management this year. Thomas J. McGinnis, of Bristol, has secured the privileges. The place will prove to be a favorite resting place for trolley riders on Sunday afternoons. The park will be formally opened on Saturday evening of this week with a hop. Hereafter, there will be dancing every Wednesday and Saturday evenings, with a first class orchestra.

At the Algonquin Club, on Radcliffe street, Bristol, from seven until ten o'clock, last Thursday evening, was a scene which for social brilliancy has probably never before been equalled in Bristol. During those hours about eight hundred people from Bristol and the surrounding towns attended the club's reception and the universal verdict has been that the occasion stands without a peer within the knowledge of the residents. The ladies were gowned in the finest robes, social lines were obliterated and there was a mingling of "sets" that gave pleasure both to hosts and guests. The ladies were emphatic in their praise of the club's selections of furnishing, and as one competent critic declared there was an air of richness everywhere and perfect harmony as to every detail.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

(Copyright, 1951 King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—The American Bar Association meeting in New York now has an opportunity to do something about Communist lawyers who act in court as though judicial proceedings were a joke.

Many ABA members are convinced the only way to re-emphasize the need of respect among lawyers for our courts is to disbar Red attorneys. Some defense lawyers, for instance, who aided the 11 convicted Communist party leaders got fined and jailed for contempt, but they'll be back practicing again soon unless the ABA acts.

When the ABA first proposed last January that a study be made of the advisability of barring Communist lawyers, one of the loudest critics was the Washington Post. As I pointed out yesterday, Alan Barth, editorial writer for the Post, is one of the speakers listed for the ABA convention. That's not all. Although kicked around by the Post for wanting to clean up its own profession by ousting Reds, the ABA has returned the compliment by inviting Philip Graham, publisher of the Post, as another of its convention speakers.

Along with the Post, the National Lawyers Guild objected to ABA threats to bounce the Reds. The Guild has been labeled a Communist party tool, so it seemed natural to hear its members objecting to being bounced out of the ABA. In fact, Thomas J. Emerson, Guild president, says in effect that proposed restrictions on Communists look to him like "attacks upon the traditional political freedoms that underlie our Democratic process."

From where I sit, it looks as though the Communists are the ones attacking our Democratic processes. And any doubting ABA member could clear up his doubts quite easily. All he would have to do would be to ask Federal Judge Medina, the patient genius who sat through several months of insulting antics from Communist hirelings in the legal profession.

The ABA can invite anyone to speak before its convention—even Communists, although the laughter over this stunt diminished at a rate commensurate with the growing casualty list from Korea.

For instance, the ABA today has a general session on the responsibility of press, radio and television.

Marquis Childs, chief pooh-bah of the Washington Post stable of columnists, is one of the speakers. He hasn't been heard from since Senator Joseph R. McCarthy shut him up by shoving down Childs' throat one of his own columns crying about attacks on Agnes Smedley. Smedley turned out to be a Soviet agent, and McCarthy remembered it, in case Childs wants to forget.

On the same speakers' platform with Childs is Wayne Coy, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and former assistant to the publisher of the Washington Post. Coy is the pride and joy of Eugene Meyer, publisher of the Washington Post, and he has never been known to want much out of official life except more government controls.

Few newspapers that I can recall have been accorded such an opportunity as has the Post to display its talents before the ABA or any other reputable national organization.

ABA members have a problem on their hands with respect to Communist lawyers. To solve it, requires courage and considerable discussion concerning relations to civil rights which each ABA member is pledged to defend. A lawyer can hire out his talents to defend anyone he desires. Frequently the courts appoint lawyers to defend indigents, some of whom may be Communists. The ABA is not concerned with this aspect of its profession. But the ABA, along with the rest of us, is deeply concerned about what to do with Communists who hiss and spit at Federal judges and courts in general.

Some of us Americans have civil rights, too. Rights to protect ourselves against saboteurs, revolutionists and Soviet agents masquerading as free citizens. The ABA seems to be a safe jury with which we rest our case.

Soldiers in Korea seldom dig foxholes for enemy troops shooting at them. We need no legal foxholes at home for fools or traitors, either.

Whales cannot breathe under water.

If that spanking new express wagon you've just bought for your son seems like money on wheels, don't blame those who make and sell express wagons. Blame the dollar! It buys less today than ever before.

It buys less for us, too.

The cost of supplies and equipment used in the telephone business is going up and up, just like the cost of supplies and equipment for other businesses.

We don't buy express wagons in the telephone business. But we do buy trucks—and the telephone installer's truck that cost $773 in 1940, costs us $1,855 today. That's an increase of 140 percent.

In spite of all this, we have continued to provide good, low-cost telephone service that keeps growing in value day by day.

Even if your telephone service should cost a few cents more a day, it would still be a big, big bargain.

Bucks County Republican Committee Opens Campaign

In opening his address Congressman McConnell said that he was more than glad to get away briefly from the atmosphere of Washington, where life was one long battle against cynical corruption, and to come to a part of the nation like Bucks County, where public office still was a public trust. He was glad also, he added, to renew his friendship with such Bucks County men as former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy, and State Senator Edward B. Watson, and with former Congressman Franklin H. Lichtenwalter of Lehigh county, whom he described as "real Americans, men who don't play both ends against the middle."

Principal purpose of the political rally was to advance the candidacy of the Republican ticket which comes up for election November 6. One feature of the occasion was the first public appearance of Karl C. King since his nomination as the party's choice for the congressional vacancy caused by the death September 1 of the Hon. Albert C. Vaughn.

Mr. King, head of the King Farms Company, south of Morrisville, and nationally known as a large-scale grower of kitchen vegetables by highly mechanized intensive farming methods, had been chosen unanimously a week before the Saturday meeting to represent the Bucks-Lehigh County district Republicans. The selection had been made by a special conference committee representing both counties.

Mr. King took advantage of the occasion to thank all of those who supported him at the conference, and also the many Bucks and Lehigh County Republicans who have sent messages of indorsement since his nomination.

"I am especially proud because my selection was the action of a group of men and women from these two counties who for many years have been carrying on outstanding work on behalf of the Republican cause," he added.

He told graphically of the rapid industrial and residential developments which are taking place in the lower end of Bucks County, where great factories, including a gigantic steel plant, and whole cities as well, are being constructed at break-neck speed.

Having lived and done business in this area for thirty years, he said, he is personally acquainted with many of the key figures in both the industrial and housing operations, and he has been acquainted with the details of the programs from their outset.

"Up to the present year," Mr. King declared, "most of this district's congressional problems centered in Lehigh County, which has possessed larger industries and population than Bucks county."

"Nature gave Lehigh county great natural advantages, intensive development of which started soon after the Civil War, and a big industrial community expanded there over a period of sixty years or more. Because the growth was gradual, it was possible for many of the problems it created to be solved at leisure."

"Meanwhile it was quite logical for Lehigh County to provide the candidates for Congress, and Bucks county cheerfully agreed to this proposition."

He compared the present rush for high-paying jobs and modern new homes in Bucks county with the Oklahoma Land Rush, in which 20,000 persons dashed into the territory to take up free land previously occupied by Indians.

The special problems created or aggravated by this intensive construction and resettlement program, he continued, includes housing, schools, highway construction, utilities such as gas and electricity, water and sewage services, the dredging of the river, and the free flow of all essential supplies into the new area.

Since many of these matters involve the services which are operated by the county government, he urged that the voters be sure to keep the county administration in the hands of the Republican team which has handled it so efficiently in the past.

"We are all interested in preserving Bucks County as it has been, not in letting big industry despoil and degrade it," he added. "What we want to do is to obtain wholehearted cooperation in building a still better Bucks County."

Mr. King was introduced to the gathering by former Congressman Lichtenwalter.

"Bucks county was for so many years gracious and kind in giving the seat of Congressman to her sister county to the north, that it is a special matter of pride for me to be asked on this occasion to present the man who will be your first Bucks County congressman for many years," Mr. Lichtenwalter said.

"It is always a matter of pleasure to come into your county, because of the great political wealth you enjoy in wisdom and advice, as well as the solidarity of your voters which has always given Lehigh County congressional candidate such splendid support down here."

"Bucks and Lehigh counties have always lived harmoniously and happily together, and I assure you this will continue to be the case."

"Mr. King, I am confident, has a rare combination of qualities which should give him particular advantages in performing the duties of Congressman."

"First is his agricultural background, which is a matter which should be of particular interest to the good farmers both in Bucks and Lehigh counties. Second is the fact that in his enterprise he has had to combine with his agricultural pursuits real sound business sense and experience. Third, he knows of his personal life what it means to put in a full day's work, and he ought to be well equipped to grasp the problems of the wage-earner."

Present as the official representative of the Lehigh County Republican Committee was the chairman, J. W. Daubert, who was given an enthusiastic burst of applause when he was presented. He is the man who put the name of Mr. King into nomination during the course of the special conference called to select a congressional candidate. The seconding speech also came from a Lehigh Countyman—the Hon. Jacob Tallman, former State Senator.

"It is indeed a pleasure to bring the greetings of Lehigh County to our neighbors and friends," he said. "Just a week ago today many of us were conferring in Philadelphia, and I want to tell you how proud I am that it fell to my lot to give you the name of our next Congressman."

"He has all the necessary qualifications to be a marvelous campaigner and an excellent representative from the district—a Congressman of the highest type and exceptional ability."

The annual meeting was called to order by the Republican County Chairman of Bucks County, the Hon. A. Harry Clayton.

Mr. Clayton presented the candidates for the row offices in the Bucks County courthouse:

Amos J. Kirk, Wycombe, for County Surveyor.

Russell J. T. Ferris, Ottsville, Coroner.

H. Lamont Marsh, Bristol, Clerk of Quarter Sessions.

Miss Mary Yardley, Yardley, Clerk of Orphans Court.

George A. Krickory, Richland township, treasurer.

C. Herbert Haldeman, Doylestown, Register of Wills.

Joseph W. Hallowell, of Ivyland (incumbent), and Thomas R. Lewis, of Perkasie, both for county commissioner.

Judge Edward G. Biester, candidate for re-election to the Common Pleas court, spoke briefly as the representative of the county ticket.

"On behalf of your county candidates, I wish to express our appreciation for your confidence in us to represent the Republican party," he said.

"You may feel sure that we will undertake to fill our several positions with the same devotion to service which has been displayed by those who have preceded us in them."

"As our county grows, it is essential that office holders acquit themselves according to the highest of standards, in such a manner as to be a credit both to themselves and to our party."

Distinguished guests who were introduced during the course of the meeting, many of them occupying seats on the speakers' platform, included:

Mrs. Clarence J. Buckman, vice-chairman of the Republican county committee; Mrs. Norman W. Lear, president of the Bucks County Council of Republican Women; Mrs. John W. Cooper, past president of the Bucks County Council; Mrs. Ralph R. Dunn, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Loyal Republican Club; Miss Eleanor Worthington, associated with Republican women's activities; and Mrs. Karl C. King, wife of the candidate for congress.

Also introduced were the county's two assemblymen, the Hon. Wilson L. Yeakel and the Hon. Marvin V. Keller.

Former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy, veteran Republican leader in the county, and his sister, Miss Margaret R. Grundy, were presented from the floor. Judge Hiram H. Keller also was introduced.

The official call for the annual meeting was read by the secretary of the County Committee, State Senator Edward B. Watson. Later Senator Watson spoke briefly to introduce former Congressman Lichtenwalter, who in turn presented the recently nominated Congressional candidate, Mr. King.

"I feel like a stranger," Senator Watson said in greeting the audience. "Ever since the last Sunday in December I've been mostly in Harrisburg. This feels like a homecoming, and I guess the same

The child appeared yesterday, and, without hesitation, selected Peterson from among four men as her abductor. She had been visiting her grandmother that day and, with a group of other girls, was playing in the park area near Tioga station of the Reading Co. when the man approached and offered to buy her pretzels, she said.

Instead of going to a store, however, the man led her to an out-of-the-way corner and grabbed her clothing, she said at the time. She screamed and broke away as he slapped her face.

Girl Scout Troops Go Over 100 Mark

The four county day camps accommodated a total of 235 girls who attended four days or more, and 51 volunteer leaders worked and planned with these girls to give them a well-rounded program.

There were 259 girls from all parts of Bucks county who attended Camp Shehaka in the Hickory Run State Park at White Haven, while 26 went to other nearby camps, making a total of 285 at established camps for a period of one or more weeks. Ten troops, 123 girls, in the county went on their own camping trips of two to four days as a part of their own troop program.

The county Girl Scouts were represented by two leaders at the Girl Scout Edith Macy training school this summer. Mrs. Russell Walter, Buckingham, president, took a course on outdoor program skills, while Miss Elizabeth Berger, Buckingham, attended the world friendship workshop. A group of delegates from the county also plan to attend the national convention of the Girl Scout organization in Boston, Mass., October 15 - 18.

The need for additional office space was discussed by Mrs. R. H. Rufe of Chalfont, staff and office chairman.

The next board meeting will be October 8th, and the council members will meet October 22.

catch it and at no time was the house threatened by the barn fire. "The firemen of Bucks county certainly got a black eye and didn't deserve it and we must see to it that it never happens again," warned Fire Marshal Roberts, who deplored the fact that unauthorized persons were not halted by the firemen before the damage occurred.

"When there is a fire, there is a certain type person who loves to dash in, tear everything up, break it and take no orders nor listen to anyone," cautioned Roberts.

Roberts reported reports from 14 companies, indicating 29 alarms, 81 men on 53 hours of duty and traveling 41 miles.

Six arrests were reported. A Croydon fire policeman described one and Fire Policeman Robert Brenner, Eddington, described four and two pending.

For his reportorial service in covering every meeting since 1945, W. Lester Trauch, Doylestown, of the Daily Intelligencer news staff, was given a life membership, president Raymond C. Strunk, Quakertown, reported. Charles W. Roberts, Jr., Newtown, president of the Bucks County Firemen's Association, was also elected a life member.

President Strunk, who urged Bucks county firemen to observe Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 7 to 13, reported that Quakertown's two companies are staging a "wet" demonstration with Lansdale's 65-foot "big stick" as the feature. Firemen from Feasterville, Yardley and Erwinna are also cooperating with President Strunk's suggestion for community observances. A housing will be held by the Quakertown West End Fire Company, North Main street, Quakertown, October 13th, climaxing the week's activities in that borough.

President Strunk announced that Quakertown, No. 1, will be host at the January 16th meeting, when a memorial plaque in honor of the charter president, Harold E. Heitz, will be dedicated. The plaque will be hung in Quakertown No. 1 Fire Station, which is a part of Borough Hall.

Yardley Fire Company will be the host at the meeting Nov. 14, advanced a week because of Thanksgiving, at Woodside Community Hall. The March 19, 1952, meeting will be held at Erwinna.

will place rural boxes in front of their homes instead of the corner of Chickenfoot or at the corner of Emilio-Newportville road.

The newly-established Route No. 3 will serve Maple Beach, Winder Village, Old Rogers road, (except from the point of Route 413 to Newport Road), Bath Road from west side of Laurel Bend curve to Crawford's Corner, Newportville Road (Route 113) from Oakford road to Beechwood Cemetery, Hulmeville road from the cemetery to York's Corner, Taylor road, Trevoze road, Street road, Richlieu road, Bristol road and Oakford road.

Patrons now residing in the above mentioned areas, presently receiving service through either Bristol R. D. No. 1 or Bristol R. D. No. 2, are advised that after October 15, 1951 their address will be Bristol R. D. No. 3.

In the near future, Form 4232—Patrons Name and Address Slip—will be deposited in each box on the rural delivery system of this Office. It is requested that the rural patrons complete the forms and promptly return them to the carrier or to the Bristol Post Office.

Each rural box-holder will be notified of the route number through which they will receive service. As soon as this information is received, the patrons are advised to notify their correspondents and publishers accordingly. This cannot be emphasized too strongly. Box numbers will be assigned at a later date.

Acting Postmaster Mulligan will appreciate the co-operation of the rural patrons in this respect.

ANNIVERSARIES FOR TWO

NEWPORTVILLE, Sept. 24—Twenty-four girls of Fergusonville Community Center enjoyed ice cream cake, pretzels, and soft drinks Friday evening. The affair marked the 8th birthday anniversaries of Virginia Nuskey and Barbara Stevenson. Susan and Marjorie Perpete entertained with Hawaiian dances and also sang. The group enjoyed singing and other entertainment, also played games. The girls received small gifts.

Robert Brenner, Eddington, reported on a convention held at Collingdale, where fire police were warned that no police officer at any time has the right to turn any apparatus back unless it is an order from the chief in charge of the fire. It was decided to hold a banquet in the Spring, with Willard D. Underkoffler, Quakertown, as chairman.

Hospital Technician Is Wed in A Newtown Rectory

St. Andrew's rectory provided the setting on Saturday at half after two for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Anna Laird, daughter of Mrs. Sherman P. Laird, Allentown, N. J., to Mr. Richard Stewart Steele, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Steele. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Daniel J. Daly.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. Adolph G. Friedrich, Allentown, the bride wore a slipper satin gown fashioned with square neckline and long sleeves, styled with an imported French lace bodice over satin and a lace peplum cascading down the back. Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell in tiers from a scalloped satin cap, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and lilies-of-the-valley centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Walter J. Siwak, Trenton, N. J., was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a ballerina length gown of pink-orchid tissue taffeta and carried a bouquet of orchid and white chrysanthemums.

Mr. William Grace was best man for Mr. Steele.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Laird, wore a gray taffeta dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following a reception at the Club Condo, Trenton, Mr. and Mrs. Steele left for a wedding trip to Florida. They will reside in Allentown until their new home here is completed.

Mrs. Steele is a graduate of the Upper Freehold Township high school and the Franklin School of Science and Arts, Philadelphia, and is now employed as a laboratory technician at Mercer hospital, Trenton. Mr. Steele served for three years with the U. S. Navy and is associated with the Richard M. Olsen automobile agency.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Anthony A. Marinacci, Pastor, Bristol Christian Church (Pentecostal)

Wood and Walnut Sts. Who His own self bare our sins in His own body on the tree.—1 Peter 2:24.

The cross of Jesus is the revelation of God's judgment on sin. Never tolerate the idea of martyrdom about the cross of Jesus Christ. The cross was a superb triumph in which the foundations of hell were shaken. There is nothing more certain in Time or Eternity than what Jesus Christ did on the Cross: He switched the whole of the human race back into a right relationship with God. He made redemption the basis of human life, that is, He made a way for every man to get into communion with God.

The cross did not "happen" to Jesus: He came on purpose for it. He is "the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world." The whole meaning of the Incarnation is the cross. God became incarnate for the purpose of putting away sin. The cross is the centre of Time and of Eternity, the answer to the enigmas of both.

The cross is not the cross of man but the cross of God. The Cross is the exhibition of the nature of God, the gateway whereby any individual of the human race can enter into union with God and be saved. The centre of salvation is the Cross of Jesus Christ, and the reason it is so easy to obtain salvation is because it cost God so much.

BRISTOL HIGH FAILS TO STOP PRATT; LOSE GAME

PALMYRA, Sept. 24—Failing to stop Charlie Pratt and missing several scoring opportunities cost Bristol High a victory here Saturday afternoon as Palmyra High handed the Warriors a 13-6 loss. It was the second set-back in a row for the Bristol eleven.

Pratt was the whole show as far as the Palmyra offensive power was concerned. He scored the first touchdown, passed to the other, and scored the lone point conversion on a line back. The large gains ripped off by the fleet-footed Jersey back in the first quarter led to the initial touchdown of the tilt.

Bristol's touchdown came in the third quarter on a 23-yard line play by Jack Gleason. The touchdown climaxed a drive of 60 yards and deadlocked the score at 6-6 at the time. Muth's place-kick barely missed the uprights in the try for the extra point.

The Warriors had several chances to score in the first half but passed them up either by fumbles or pass interceptions. The Bristol team outplayed their foes in the first half, scoring six first downs to Palmyra's three. Palmyra scored eight first downs in the second half while Bristol added four to its total.

The Pals scored in the first quarter, taking advantage of a good run by Pratt. King kicked off to Muth who ran from the 28 to the 38. Two line plays failed and on third down, Pettito intercepted a Bristol pass on his 40. Bristol held for three downs, King kicking off on the 18. Accardi made 18 yards on an end run. Holston added five yards on a pitch-out from Dugan. Two plays failed to net any yardage so Accardi went back to kick. The pass from center went over his head. Accardi picked up the ball and ran to his thirty before being dropped. Palmyra gained but seven yards in three plays. On the fourth down, Hammelman attempted an end run and was stopped on the 23. Bristol taking over, Muth cracked the left side of Palmyra's line for 9 yards. Holston skirted left end for 18 yards and a first down at mid-field. A Bristol fumble was recovered by Lassiter for Palmyra. Two line plays gave Palmyra 8 yards. On third down, Pratt gave an opening and broke into the open, being downed on the 18. Hammelman tried the left side and made 5 yards. Len Pratt went off tackle and was stopped three yards from the goal line. C. Pratt took the ball over the final chalk stripe for the touchdown. The attempted extra point kick was blocked. Following the kick-off, the quarter ended.

Bristol missed up a scoring chance in the second period. Gillies had carried the kickoff to the 41. A pass, Andy Accardi to Gene Dugan, netted the Warriors a first down on the Palmyra 45. Two line plays by Joe Muth were good for nine yards. Holston, on a pitch-out, ran the left side for 11 yards and a first on Palmyra's 25. Gleason skipped through a hole in the line and bullied his way to the 4-yard line before being stopped. Accardi fumbled on the two-yard line. King recovering for the Jerseyites. King then booted to Accardi on the 35. However, Bristol failed to dent the Palmyra defense, losing the ball on the 34. A nice run by Hammelman put the ball at mid-field but on an attempted end run, Stanford fumbled with Dan Davis recovering for Bristol on the 38. On the first play, Dugan's pass was intercepted by Hammelman on the 10. Trying the line without success, King kicked to Accardi on the 49. He ran it back to the 20. A well executed screen pass, Dugan to Gleason, was completed for a first down on Palmyra's 8. But King again intercepted a pass and Bristol's hopes were shattered.

Bristol knotted the count in the third quarter. After the kickoff ended on the 30, Pratt scampered on two end runs for first downs to put the pigskin on Bristol's 40. But Accardi broke up the offense with a pass interception on his 39. Gleason got off to a nice run on third down, placing the ball near mid-field but Bristol was off-side. Accardi kicked out of bounds on the Palmyra 39 on the next play. A quick-opener netted Palmyra a first on Bristol's 45. A lateral, Hammelman to Len Pratt, was good for a first down on the 38. Again Accardi broke up the Pals' attack by intercepting a pass and running to the 40. Holston went through the center of the line for 7 yards. Accardi's end run gave him a first on the Palmyra 40. Again Holston netted 7 yards with Petrizz getting a first on the 29. Accardi found a hole off tackle for 6 yards. Gleason hit tackle, got past and line of scrimmage and eluded two would-be tacklers to score Bristol's touchdown. Muth missed the extra point try.

Palmyra came back fighting hard in the final session and scored after receiving the kick-off which was carried to the 35 from the 25 by Len Pratt. Grimes made eight yards on a lateral, putting the ball on the 43. A long pass was thrown by Charlie Pratt to Elmer Hinson for the winning touchdown. Hinson caught the ball on the five and ran unimpeded to the goal line. The play covered 57 yards. Pratt then added the extra point by bucking the line.

Prizes Galore Awarded At Falls Street Fair

FALLSINGTON, Sept. 24—The Fallsington street fair, held Saturday, proved a success. The fair was started with the raising of the flag by Bruce Beuchler, Boy Scout, and Louis Lombardi playing "The Star Spangled Banner" on the trumpet. Seven hundred attended.

Winner of the boys' sack race was Julius Meszaros, who received a knife; girls' sack race, Linda Neeld, roller skates; skip race, Prugh Roeser, flashlight; Heather McCue, story book and pencil case; balloon blowing contest, Barry Blyer, knife; Robert Allen, received roller skates, and Linda Metz, story book and pencil case. These prizes were all donated.

"The Highland Fling" was done by Argyle Highland Dancers under direction of Jeannie Jordine Smylie. "The Sword Dance" was by Trisha Nixon and Trina Moldovan; "Sailors Hornpipe," by Jean Gray and

"Billie" Guthrie; "Irish Jig," Joan Emann.

Frances Drews, local vocalist, attired in a colorful cowgirl outfit, played her "fiddle" and sang, "Love Knot in My Lariat," "I'd Love To Be a Cowgirl But I'm Afraid of Cows," and "Chime Bells."

The midget baseball game, between Falls Stealers and Morrisville 2nd Ward, ended with a 3-3 tie. The players were all given free tickets to be cashed in for whatever refreshments they desired.

In the evening, Falls Township Fire Co. put on an interesting exhibit, and Pennsbury high school band played with the majorettes demonstrating skill with their batons.

There were 59 door prizes donated by Albert Kellett given out during the evening. The grand prizes were won by Mrs. Arthur Wiley, Newtown, a turkey; and Kenneth Traub, Fallsington, a fruit basket. The 4-H Club had a pretty display of cut flowers and vegetables; there was also a scale model of the new hospital to be built for lower Bucks County; and the public library was open for inspection.

There were many booths selling refreshments, baked goods, potted plants, pottery, candy; there was a "fish pond" for children, and other inviting things. The fair was ended with dancing for all.

The Pony Express was known as the marvel of the Sixties.
